Potentate's Message

As Potentate of Aleppo Temple, I extend to you my most sincere wish that you enjoy this pictorial yearbook commemorating Aleppo's 109th year. The following pages offer a brief history of Aleppo Temple. I know you will find it interesting reading about the early years of Aleppo. The dedication of those nobles, and their hard work, has made Aleppo the temple that it is today. Also included is some information about the "World's Greatest Philanthropy," our Shrine hospitals, that we are all so proud to support.

Aleppo Temple has long been one of the strongest temples in Shrinedom. Let us continue to work together in building this great temple of which we are so proud. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of you for all your hard work and support. I can only say "Thank you for a job well done!"

Sincerely and fraternally,

E. Cappy

HISTORY OF THE WILMINGTON MOSQUE

Since 1882, the members of Aleppo Temple had dreamed of their own Mosque where they could have all the Shrine activities in one location. For over fifty years, the Temple's famed Ceremonials were held at Mechanics Building in downtown Boston until 1958 when Aleppo had to move out because of urban renewal plans for a new high rise complex (Prudential Center). Boston's huge Commonwealth Amory became the site of the Ceremonials from 1969 thru 1976, with administrative offices at 569 Boylston Street in Copley Square.

During 1974 news reached Aleppo's Nobility that Commonwealth Amory's public use was to be restricted, and the decision focused the Divan's attention on finding new Ceremonial facilities. Aleppo's building committee was moved by the question, "When are we going to have our own building?" At the time the new Mosque saga began, Aleppo was the sixth largest Shrine temple in North America, and it was homeless.

Officers and members of Aleppo began to look at "For Sale" properties. There was not a formal or official group working for Aleppo. However, concerned members took the problem very seriously because of the needs of the Shriners' vast numbers of parading units and their rehearsal, practice and warehousing requirements.

In the year Illustrious Lou Roazen was Potentate, 1975, the Barbo Furniture property in Wilmington came to light. Ed Borenstein knew the property was up for sale. He went to Colonel Malcolm Stevens of the Uniformed Units, and had Stevens and Harold Larson, Second Ceremonial Master, look at the property. The three Shriners felt someone on the Divan should look and see what could be done to promote the purchase of the Barbo property.

Noble Edward T. Johnston, High Priest and Prophet, was approached for his support of the proposed Mosque which would be discussed in the high councils of the Aleppo Divan. After seeing the Barbo property, Johnston agreed with them that this was the ideal place with 65 acres of land and 100,000 sq. ft. of building space. Other nobles visited the site including Jim Murray, Jim Winton, Past Potentate Willard Lombard and Recorder Harvey Waugh. Within a few weeks, Aleppo's building committee held a meeting to discuss the Barbo property. Ill. Sir Robert Gardiner Wilson, III, Past Potentate, was Chairman, and he helped obtain an acknowledgement from Ill. Potentate Lou Roazen for Aleppo Temple to proceed with the real estate inquiries.

The real estate team of Johnston, Stevens, Borenstein and Larson asked the Divan to examine the property firsthand. Potentate Roazen and Chief Rabban Donald W. Vose visited the Wilmington property. The building committee voted to proceed with the acquisition.

On March 23, 1976, Aleppo Temple held an informal "open house" party for the Nobility to see and learn about the possibilities of a new Shrine Mosque developing from the present Barbo structure. There was a determined group who felt if Aleppo did not purchase this property, it would be a long time before anything else would come along. The building committee felt it was a good location, but that was one of the objections. Many felt the Aleppo home should be closer to Boston, perhaps on the South Shore, in Newton, possibly Needham. No matter where the building committee went someone would object to it because it wasn't the ideal location.

The Aleppo Search Committee made several on site visitations, but none of the property offered could hold a candle to what was being offered in Wilmington. The Barbo property of 65 acres and building, and the $1.2 million price tag seemed to be the best deal.

The building committee talked with Chief Rabban Donald W. Vose and asked his advice. Vose was for a new Mosque, but being a man who believed in protocol, would not say anything publicly for or against it. He went along with whatever was the Potentate's wish and said he wouldn't make a firm decision until he was Potentate.

OVERWHELMING VOTE

On the night Vose was elected and installed as Potentate, January 30, 1976, he delivered an inspiring speech saying that he was in favor of the purchase of the Wilmington property, and that he was appointing Noble Ed Johnston as Chairman of the fund-raising committee. Ill. Potentate Vose told the fund-raising committee to go ahead and get the ball rolling. That was a Friday night, and Saturday morning they had their first meeting.

Several things were decided. The fund-raising committee began looking into circuses as a large fund-raiser. The ALEPPO NEWS announced that a proposition would be presented at the June, 1976, Ceremonial to discuss the prospect of purchasing the Barbo property. It was stated Aleppo Temple would not assess the membership, nor increase dues to pay for the building or touch the permanent fund. The fund-raisers would ask for pledges by the Nobility and the rest of the needed funds would come from ventures such as circuses, luaus and auctions.

Thus, Aleppo's fund-raising Shriners would go out and raise the money needed.

The Aleppo building-and-fund-raising plan was presented to the Nobility at the June 18 Ceremonial. Of the approximately 3,500 Nobles in attendance, only 18 Nobles voted against the proposition.

Aleppo Temple Shrine Activities, Inc., a non-profit corporation, was reactivated for the purpose of purchasing the building and holding title.

THE NEXT STEP

The next step was that Aleppo Temple made an agreement with Mr. Leo Barbo to buy the property. The wheels were set in motion; on January 1, 1977, Aleppo took ownership.

January 28, 1977, Noble Frank J. Staples became Potentate and he appointed Chief Rabban Edward T. Johnston as fund-raising chairman for the ensuing year.

On May 5, 1977, the Aleppo administrative offices were moved from 569 Boylston Street in downtown Boston to the rustic setting on Fordham Road, Wilmington. Improvements and remodeling began immediately.

The first Aleppo Ceremonial was held in Wilmington on June 10, 1977. The attendance was in excess of 5,000 Shriners.

Aleppo held the third annual (modern) Shrine circus for the first time in the new auditorium May 3-7, 1978, and it was an overwhelming success. The circus committee packed the place and that was the beginning of a number of events to take place at the Mosque. Of the original $1.2 million debt, the fund-raising committee, with Noble Ed Johnston as Chairman, paid off about $700,000 in less than two years.

In 1977, Chief Rabban Johnston set a goal of $100,000 to be raised by activities. He met that goal. In 1978, as Potentate, Johnston set a goal of $150,000 and raised in excess of $200,000. Johnston's pledge program when completed was expected to raise about $1.5 million.

The dedication weekend of June 15, 16, 17, 18 was one of the most exciting periods in Aleppo's history. Potentate Johnston presided over an assembly of Shrine dignitaries and members of Aleppo who worked tirelessly for three years to establish a permanent home.

Sunday, June 18, the full complement of the Aleppo Uniformed Units as well as those from the New England Shrine temples paraded in Boston to signal this great dedication as well as celebrate the 10th Anniversary of the Shriner's Burns Institute.

In addition to the activity that is generated within the Mosque, there is a new spirit within the Shrine. That is the real "dividend" of Aleppo's expansion.

Over the years, each temple Potentate contributed to the improvement and renovation of our Mosque. Various construction and refurbishment programs were initiated and completed. Under the direction of Ill. Eugene A. Capobianco, these programs further advanced, with new modern improvements being completed to make Aleppo Temple a more attractive, busy and socially productive Mosque. Let us all maintain our commitment to Aleppo Temple's future, so that all of us may share in the fun and serious aspects of Shrinedom.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL CLASSIC

HAROLD FOLEY
Imperial & Aleppo Public Relations

Noble Harold Foley's life is devoted to his family and his beloved Shrine. Helping children and using his public relations expertise to guide the Shriners locally and nationally. His accomplishments are many ... for example his stories in the national media include the David Rothenburg miracle survival, the El Salvador earthquake survivors and the Shrine football Classic.

Noble Harold also informed the public about the Shrine Hospitals and their patients. His contributions to the High School All-Star football classic are legendary ... many of these Shrine Game players that Noble Foley publicized graduated to the National Football League and Super Bowl stardom. He is a member of the Shriners Burns Institute Public Relations Advisory Board and as such is a major contributor.

Noble Foley promoted the fund-raising activities of the Fire Fighters. He helped sponsor the United States Marines annual "Run to Save a Child's Life," which over the years has raised over $200,000 for the Shriners Burns Institute.

So, I guess that's why Noble Foley with his enviable record is looked upon by his fellow Shriners and citizens as "Mr. Shriner." Therefore, to our "Mr. Shriner" we salute you for your dedication and service to all mankind. We are proud that you are an Aleppo Shriner. Thank you, Noble Harold, for your enthusiasm and commitment to the spirit of the Shriners.

Shriners Hospitals For Crippled Children

The World's Greatest Philanthropy

SINCE 1922, Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children have provided outstanding care to children who have orthopedic problems or who have been severely burned. Both inpatient and outpatient care are given to children from infancy to their 18th birthday, regardless of race, sex, religion, or relationship to a Shriner.

There is no charge for the care or services provided by any of these hospitals. Admission is based on medical and financial need. Operating expenses ($226,500,000 in '90) are met by income from an Endowment Fund built by the gifts and bequests of Shriners, their families and the general public. Many Tripoli Nobles contribute by joining the Million Dollar Club. Additional revenue comes from hospital assessments paid by every Shriner along with the annual dues of his Temple - and by the proceeds of fund-raising events, such as the nationally televised East-West Shrine Game ... the Wisconsin High School All-Star Football Game ... and the Midwest Shrine Game. Many Tripoli Shrine Clubs and Units conduct their own fund-raising events. Approximately 96 cents of every dollar contributed goes to patient care.

ing at a Shrine Hospital. As general orthopedic medicine advanced and infections and polio were virtually eliminated, Shrine Hospitals found themselves treating the more complicated, specialized cases that could not be treated adequately by local hospital facilities.

In the early '60s, Shriners entered two new fields. The collating of all Shrine medical records enabled Shrine Hospital personnel to begin an orthopedic research program. In addition, the Shrine entered the almost unexplored field of severe burn treatment, by establishing three Shriners Burns Institutes.

Today, researchers in Shrine Hospitals are conducting extensive investigations into the causes of crippling and the causes of scarring. Working with the medical schools of affiliated universities like Harvard, the University of Chicago, Montreal's McGill University, and the University of Hawaii, they are exploring the frontiers of burn and orthopedic medicine in an ongoing effort to provide the best possible treatment. Even more, they are working to find ways to prevent those afflictions which can keep our youth from leading full lives.

The Shrine burns research program began when the Burns Institutes were founded. Since their inception, they have advanced burn medicine significantly. Shrine orthopedic research, begun in the '60s, has grown from an annual commitment of thousands of dollars to one involving millions of dollars. The 1990 research budget for Shriners Hospitals is approximately $18.5 million.

Total-Care Approach

Shriners Hospitals apply a Total-Care approach to the treatment of their patients. The philosophy of the hospitals is, that while medicine might heal the body, tending to a child's mind and spirit are vital to achieving optimal results. With the help of an expert hospital staff, excellent medical facilities, a comfortable environment, and the close companionship of fellow patients, each child finds special support for his or her particular needs.

Shriners Burns Institute Surgeons Make Medical History

Surgeons at the Shriners Burns Institute in Boston have become the first to successfully use human skin - grown in a laboratory - to cover large portions of two severely burned brothers, a technique doctors say was responsible for saving the lives of the two young patients.

The success of the grafts of cultured human skin, over large portions of the body, may prove to be a major advancement in burn treatment, according to many experts in the field of burn medicine.

The laboratory grown human skin - cultured from postage stamp size patches of the boys' unburned skin - was surgically applied to approximately half the body surfaces of Glen and Jamie Selby of Wyoming.

The technique of growing skin in the laboratory was developed by Dr. Howard Green of Harvard Medical School. Small patches of unburned skin are removed from the patient and processed to remove cells. The cells are put into a special solution and in a matter of weeks, the cultures develop into large sheets used for grafting. Surgeons at the Shriners Burns Institute in Boston have been using small patches of the cultured skin on burn patients in recent years. But it was not until the Selby cases, however, that this laboratory

The two Selby brothers were burned last summer over 95 percent of their bodies after they daubed themselves with paint and tried to remove it with solvent which eventually caught fire. Eighty to ninety percent of their burns were third degree, in which the skin is completely destroyed.

Patients with burns as massive as those of the Selby boys usually have a slim chance of survival said Dr. Gregory Gallico III, one of the Shriners Burns Institute surgeons who operated on the boys.

"Previously in treating burn patients we had covered up to five percent of the body surface with the cultured epithelium (laboratory grown human skin)," Gallico said. "We had not anticipated covering so large a percentage of the body at this stage of our experience with (the cultured skin). But since the boys had no other hope of survival, we agreed to try it."

New Hospital to be Built on Present Site

Chairman of the Board of Governors, Illus. Frederick P. Spencer, P.P., brings us up-to-date on the status of the new Shriners Burns Institute. At the present time the Shrine is in the middle of the permit phase - filing the numerous requests, surveys, environmental impact studies.

Present plans, project a building seven or eight stories high, the same height as the Wellman Building (Mass. General Hospital) across Blossom Street. In addition, there will be two floors of underground parking.

The building will front on both Blossom Street and Cardinal O'Connell Way. Above the second floor, the exterior wall will have a 90° arc stretching from Blossom Street to Cardinal

O'Connell Way. Private and semi-private rooms will be cited along this arc. Patient care will be handled on the top four floors. Research laboratories will be located on the third and fourth floors. First and second floors will contain administrative offices, cafeteria and a 200-seat auditorium.

If all the permits come through it is expected that preliminary work on the foundation of the new structure could start as early as December, 1991. Work will start with foundation boring to install a series of vertical beams. These would be raised above the height of the present building and heavy cross-beams would be put in place for construction of the upper floors.

HISTORY OF THE MYSTIC SHRINE OF NORTH AMERICA

The Shrine was founded August 13, 1870, by two Scottish Rite Masons, William J. Florence, one of that era's most prominent actors, and Dr. Walter M. Fleming. On June 16, 1871, eleven other Scottish and York Rite Masons were received into the Order of the Mystic Shrine, and in 1872, the first formally organized Temple in the United States, Mecca, located in New York City, was formed. The Shrine was started for fellowship and fraternity and has thrived under the mantle of pageantry, ritual and ceremony. It has grown from the original thirteen founding Shriners to over 900,000 members in more than 180 Temples located throughout the North American Continent.

The Shrine's own history states, that "despite its name, it is as American as Apple Pie," and its diverse membership and objectives, goals and entrance requirements certainly bear out this description. It supports our Government. It requires a belief in God of all its members. It loves children and devotes most of its energy and resources to assisting and healing those who are handicapped.

Before becoming a Shriner, a potential member must complete three Masonic degrees accompanied by a series of tests after which he becomes a "Master Mason." After becoming a Master Mason an aspiring Shriner must then proceed through the rituals of the Scottish or York Rites, both being Masonic organizations that confer "degrees" on their members after elaborate dramatic rituals. Only after all this, a Mason may apply to become a Shriner.

Despite the belief by some that the Shrine is a religion; it is not. It does practice quasi-religious rites that are as secret as the passwords that admit members to official ceremonies and serve as a form of communication understood only by Shriners. Its rituals are carefully and colorfully staged with Shriners wearing ornate oriental robes, gowns and medals in their meeting halls called Temples or Mosques, with exotic Arabic names. Its pageantry and long, colorful parades have become a part of America's folklore and the spectacular floats and motorized units, the precision marching corps, the intricate maneuvers of highly-trained horses, the crowd pleasing music of bands, drum and bugle groups, have pleased and made millions of spectators happy with spine-tingling sensations.

Members of the Mystic Shrine, since the beginning, were permitted to wear an emblem that was distinctive and would set them apart from others. This is the Shriner's Red Fez - which they are all proud of and cherish. It is worn at all official functions and pageantries and is an important part of the Order's tradition.

The Shrine, as a great Fraternal Order, started as a fun order in 1872 but found its soul in 1921 when the dream of its planners and thinkers became a reality when a resolution for the establishment of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children was adopted unanimously at the 46th Annual Session of the Imperial Shrine Council in Portland, Oregon. This indeed was the vehicle needed to make the Shrine something far greater than a mere playground for Masons! The Shrine Hospitals began with the opening of the first one in Shreveport, Louisiana, in 1922, and has grown to 22 Orthopedic and Burns Hospitals, located throughout North America. It was decided at the very outset that the hospitals would be open to all children, regardless of race or creed whose parents were unable to pay for needed surgical, medical and hospital facilities. This great humanitarian project has, throughout the years, become one of the world's finest philanthropies. With vision and wisdom, today's Shrine leaders are making plans for extensive research facilities to help discover the "whys" and reasons for various diseases, as well as the needed treatment.

The good the Shrine does at its hospitals can be measured in terms of the lives it changes. They are great in number and have found happiness!

The Nobles that make up the Shrine come from all walks of life and include foremost leaders of business, the professions and Government. These men have found something of value in the work of the Temples. They enjoy the association of their fellows, men whose loyalty, worth and dependability were proven by the fact they are members. No organization in North America better understands the value of liberty. Its cost and what must be done to maintain it and its loyalty to the countries in which it functions is outstanding.

The Shrine's parades and pageantry will continue as part of their tradition and the smiling, happy faces of their young wards in Shrine Hospitals and children at their circuses will continue to glow. The real story of the Mystic Shrine of North America is that nearly a million men, Freemasons all, join together to mix fellowship, pleasure, entertainment, good will and vast charity in a grand scale program of fraternal good works. They fit in a comfortable niche of the contemporary American picture and have truly earned the title of NOBLE.
